

Mrs. Vallone

Mrs. Vallone is the best music teacher ever. She is a good singer, too. Mrs. Vallone always has great songs and plays for the winter and spring concerts.

Mrs. Vallone has been working at Kensington Elementary School for 15 years. Mrs. Vallone went to school to become an English teacher. She then realized that she really missed music, so she went back to playing music.

Mrs. Vallone gives us a lot of songs for our recorders. She teaches us notes for the recorder and if we don't understand, she explains it to us. Mrs. Vallone teaches us other instruments like the tambourine, xylophone, sticks, and also the drums, bongos and sometimes the triangle. Mrs. Vallone plays the piano and teaches saxophone, trumpet, flute, guitar, violin, and clarinet. She also teaches us how to sing.

Mrs. Vallone goes over time and keeps classes a little longer because she enjoys teaching students about music. She doesn't stay in one place in the classroom for a long time, she goes from the rug to the floor to the piano, and still has time to play games with us.

Our opinion is that Mrs. Vallone is the best music teacher in the whole world. She has a very special talent of music and kindness. We think that Mrs. Vallone is great at helping us learn instruments like violin, recorder, and guitar. She is fun to have around and she is great addition to our school.
